

What do you mean when you say "resources"?

What do you mean when you say "resourcing"?

How does your definition of "resource" change if you center Blackness?

How does your definition of "resourcing" change if you center Blackness?

Looking at the 8 Forms of Currency Framework, what specific resources help to get to your vision?

It might help to work backwards from the vision

What resources or resourcing support your strategies for the random word.

What asks and requests does the initiative need to create to get to the worlds they want to create?

What gaps are there in how you're being resourced?

How might your approach or perspectives on resourcing need to shift (individually or collectively) based on today's conversation?

What is one thing you learned in our time together that excites you?

